

College and University Library Statistics, 1957-58

WITH THE REORGANIZATION of the American Library Association, the old Statistics Committee of the Association of College and Research Libraries became the Statistics Committee for College and University Libraries of the Library Organization and Management Section of the Library Administration Division. Insofar as the compilation of the annual "College and University Library Statistics" is concerned, however, its function remains unchanged.

As in recent years, the libraries reporting have been divided into five groups. The primary criterion for inclusion in Group I is a significant graduate program, especially on the doctoral level; however, all state universities, regardless of their graduate programs, are included. The remainder of the four-year institutions, with the exception of those which are primarily concerned with teacher training, are placed in Groups II and III. Those with library operating budgets in excess of $43,000 are placed in Group II; those with budgets less than that figure are placed in Group III. Teachers college libraries, of course, compose the fourth group, and junior college libraries the fifth category.

Several problems continue to beset the committee in the compilation of the statistics. First, there is the matter of getting the statistics published while they are still fresh and probably of the greatest use to the profession. The practice has been to include them in the January issue of CRL, which necessitates the questionnaires being returned to the committee by October 1, or shortly thereafter. Each year, fewer institutions meet this deadline.

Chairman of the committee and author of the general introduction to the compilation is James Ranz, Director of Libraries, University of Wyoming.

Second, in excess of one-third of the questionnaires are returned incorrectly and/or incompletely filled out. This, by making it necessary for committee members to write to the institutions involved for clarification, greatly slows up the work of compilation.

Finally, in view of the number of incorrectly completed questionnaires which are returned each year, it must be assumed that the wording of the questionnaire itself may be at fault. The questionnaire, in its present form, has been shaped gradually over the years by able and devoted committee members, and it is the intention of the present committee to reexamine once again the present questionnaire in the hope of being able to effect improvements.

Each of the members of the committee, with the exception of the chairman, is responsible for the preparation of the statistics for one of the groups of libraries. In the following paragraphs are summary statements by each of the members concerning his own particular compilations. The Association, I am sure, appreciates the voluntary efforts of these compilers.

Group I: Compiled by Robert L. Talmadge
ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR
UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS LIBRARY

One hundred and ten questionnaires were returned by Group I libraries this year; all have been included in the published tables. Six libraries which reported last year are absent; four libraries are new or returnees to Group I.

Eighty-three libraries submitted complete financial data for both 1956/57 and 1957/58, and both library and total institutional expenditures seem to indicate a rather spectacular increase approximating 15 per cent. Total institutional expenditures increased by 15.3 per cent, and library expenditures nearly kept pace, with an increase of 14.9 per cent. This compares with increases during the preceding year of 8.5 per cent and 9.5 per cent, respectively.

The median minimum salary paid to "All Other Professional Assistants" increased only $100, to $4,100, while the preceding year had indicated an increase of $414. This median minimum salary is not completely reliable as an indicator of a library's beginning professional salary. No fewer than 28 libraries indicated entering professional salaries higher than the lowest professional salary currently paid. The median beginning professional salary, among 94 libraries reporting, was $4,200.

The average salary for all professional librarians is $5,360, compared to a figure of $5,196 a year ago. (Figures result from multiplying the average of the median minimum and median maximum salaries for each category by the number of librarians within that category for whom salaries are indicated, adding the products thus secured for all categories, and dividing this sum by the total number of librarians in all categories.) Salary figures given are as of September 1, 1958.

There seemed to be a sharp increase this year in the difficulties facing the compiler's efforts to assure that each library's reported statistics were comparable to those of other libraries and, if possible, comparable also with figures reported in the preceding year. Numerous footnotes on questionnaires indicated doubt on the part of librarians as to whether certain types of enrollment, book stock, expenditures, and staff fit the definitions given. Additional refinement of definitions by the committee seems desirable and will be undertaken by the committee.

Double-checking of statistical reports for correctness and clarity before they are mailed by the reporting libraries would greatly ease the task of the compiler. About 37 per cent of this year's reports required letters calling attention to errors in computation or requesting clarification.

Reporting of salaries, particularly those of head librarians, continues to be poor. This is especially regrettable in the case of state institutions, for which salaries are presumably a matter of public record.

Group II: Compiled by Eli M. Oboler

LIBRARIAN, IDAHO STATE COLLEGE
POCATELLO, IDAHO

Only 99 questionnaires were received, including three arriving too late for tabulation; last year 110 libraries participated. A number of respondents criticized the questionnaire for lack of clarity in defining "total enrollment," "undergraduate," and "extension." Obviously, figures cannot be computed if those giving figures are using different criteria. Notes accompanying the tables have been designed to clarify current discrepancies as much as possible.

As usual, the least available facts are those which are most desired—that is, salary figures. Many explained their holding salary figures confidential as being a matter of their employers' policy, although for publicly supported institutions such figures are always available to the inquiring public, if only in the statehouses.

The overall picture for Group II seems to be a favorable one. The typical Group II college library, for example, is now adding over 5,000 volumes per year, and is spending over $20,000 annually to get them. Although total institutional expenditures have gone up about 25 per cent, total library expenditures have increased only a little more, proportionately, so that the 1958-59 median figure for ratio of library expenditures is only up .07 per cent, from 4.14 to 4.21. Libraries in this category have managed to keep up with the growing flood of students, increasing per student operating expenditures (median) from $43.90 to $44.88.

Salaries are still going up in all brackets; with the median minimum paid "All Other Professional Assistants" up from $3,804 last year to $4,100 this year. A new statistic, requested for the first time this year, shows that the median "Beginning Professional Salary" is $4,000. Salary figures given are as of September 1, 1958.

The figures for Group II considered in toto seem to justify confidence in continuing appropriate and adequate—if not ample—financial support. At the present rate of increase, $50 per student and 5 per cent of the total budget is not too far off for most Group II libraries.

Group III: Compiled by Warren Tracy

LIBRARIAN, COE COLLEGE
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

A total of 130 questionnaires were returned by libraries in Group III, and only one was too late to be tabulated. The final tabulation of the reports by 129 libraries shows a general increase in most of the operational areas of the libraries. Median figures for salaries, book purchases, binding, and general operating expenses are substantially higher than last year. The ratio of library expenditures to the total expenditures of the colleges remained the same. There is evidence also of a considerable rise in student enrollment in the institutions reporting. Because of the range included in the tabulation the median figure should be used with caution. Salary figures tabulated are as of September 1, 1958.

Teachers Colleges: Compiled by Robert R. Hertel

LIBRARIAN, STATE UNIVERSITY TEACHERS COLLEGE, CORTLAND, NEW YORK

The median library of 1957-58 is compared with last year's "typical" library on the basis of 87 libraries reporting. Unfortunately, ten libraries could not be included because of late returns.

A rising enrollment brings over 100 more students to be served by the 1958 median library. Nearly 5,000 more books are available to them, and 35 more periodicals than last year. An increase of 400 volumes was added to the book stock as compared with last year's increment. More money is available for acquiring books (+$1,000), and binding them (+$99). Total operating expenditures have risen from $42,786 to $49,940. Each student receives $36.28 in library service money in contrast to $31.52 of last year. The median library's operation represented 4.95 per cent of institutional expenditures, an increase of 1.5 per cent over last year.

The mythical librarian of the median library can rejoice in the addition of one professional librarian to his staff and the provision of 1,000 additional hours of student assistance. He can pay a beginning professional salary of $4,500 as compared to $4,380 last year. Salaries have increased from $100 to $400 for most positions over last year. Much of this increase may be due to usual yearly increments. Salary figures tabulated are as of September 1, 1958.

Junior Colleges: Compiled by Mrs. Lula K. Pratt

LIBRARIAN, CONNORS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, WARNER, OKLAHOMA

The typical junior college library served 400 day and 532 evening students, according to median figures reported by 172 librarians for 1957-58. Around 10,454 books and 106 periodicals were available for use. A median of 636 books and other teaching aids were added during the year at a cost of $2,135. Total cost for operating the library averaged $14.38 per student; this in turn represented 3.5 per cent of the median $254,000 educational budget for the typical college. One professionally trained librarian, receiving a median salary of $5,100, spent an average of 1,520 hours during the year operating the college library. Students helped an average of 1,454 hours during the year. Fifty-eight of the librarians reported having professional and/or non-professional assistants, who received a median salary of $4,987 and $4,592, respectively.

Trends show an increase in both day and evening students, salaries, and the number of books added over the previous year's report. While there was considerable increase in nearly every college's educational budget, the median spent for the library (3.5 per cent) remained the same as for 1956-57. Little or no change in personnel or working hours was shown.

Of the 434 questionnaires mailed to representative junior colleges on September 15, 1958, 172 librarians returned the report in time for compiling the study. Several were received after the tabulation was completed. It was a pleasure to include reports from two of the colleges in Alaska. Of the 193 colleges reporting in the 1956-57 statistics, 111 responded again this year. The 55 private colleges are marked with a (P) to distinguish them from the 117 publicly supported institutions; this is a feature requested by librarians using library statistics published in previous years.

College Facilities Survey

The United States Office of Education is conducting a nationwide survey of college and university plant facilities. The project consists of three parts: an inventory of existing facilities; a survey of construction planned from 1956 to 1970; and statistics on the number of college and university buildings completed or put into use 1951 through 1956.

Data on the second and third parts have been collected. Data on the first part are not yet completely assembled. Ralph Dunbar, former chief of the Library Service Division of the USOE and now director of ALA's Library Resources Fact-Finding Project, urges that college and university librarians make sure that the library facilities of their institutions are included in the "Inventory of Existing Facilities."

"The Congress, state legislatures, and others who participate in planning plant expansion for the increasing enrollments in higher education will need the information requested for the 'Inventory of Existing Facilities.' The inventory will also be useful in local, state, and regional planning."

Instructions and report forms for the inventory were sent to the presidents of all institutions of higher education several months ago. If inquiry should reveal that they were not received, Dr. E. Eugene Higgins, specialist for physical facilities, U. S. Office of Education, Washington 25, D. C., should be notified.

School of Librarianship at UCLA

A graduate school of librarianship will be opened at UCLA in the fall of 1960. A one-year graduate program leading to a Master of Library Science degree will be offered, and a maximum of fifty students will be accepted the first year. The University's regents approved in December establishment of the school. Its dean and associate dean will be appointed July 1. Faculty will be recruited in part from practicing librarians.

"The aim of the new school," declares Chancellor Raymond B. Allen, "is to fill present unmet needs. Its curriculum and enrollment policy will be designed to recruit students from new sources and not to attract prospective students away from existing schools.

"UCLA has the essential resources for the development of a first-rate library school. It has an extensive library system which can serve as a laboratory for student courses and an excellent library staff to bolster the instructional faculty which will be created to staff the library school."

Library Opportunities in the National Defense Education Act of 1958 is the title of a pamphlet prepared at ALA Headquarters and available on request.

Objective Subjectivity

more charges at one time were not uncommon. The interesting observation here is that for these mass charges, undergraduates were in the minority whereas they were in the majority for the total charges. The highest number of call slips at one time was thirty-one, for a varsity debate. A Law School student took out twenty-two books in one day for REGIONAL PLANNING. From the faculty, who apocryphally never use subjects unless possibly outside of their subject area, a professor of political science called for seven books at once in POLITICAL PARTIES-U.S.

There was frequent use of the subdivision PERIODICALS (e.g., SOCIOLOGY-PERIODICALS) to request "any recent issue" of a periodical and to call for known volumes and years instead of the main entry approach. This may reflect on the filing arrangement and the difficulty of finding a title that has the same filing word as a long file of subject cards.

Readers work diligently to find an "author" for the author line on the call slip form. This was noticed in the procedure for checking against the master file of the experiment to determine the subject headings consulted by the readers. The number of instances when the catalog entry was a corporate body or title and the reader had supplied a personal author was not slight. This could be taken as reader's preference, by those occupied with revision of descriptive cataloging rules.

THE STAR TECHNIQUE

Scrutiny of the call slips as they came in provided many conversation pieces during the long months of the experiment—too many and too speculative to be recorded herein. Such individual observations and speculations were not much different from the reminiscences of reference librarians or a diary technique of catalog use study. But sifting and sorting of the accumulated call slips produced objectively based inductions, as have been included above, not always preenvisioned and not constrained by the artificiality of a questionnaire or bias of an interview.

The experiment may be considered an experiment in qualitative methodology rather than an experiment that has produced catalog-shaking results. The technique was objective; but the arduous labor of sifting and sorting slips, plus insufficient control of variables that reintroduced subjectivity in the interpretation of some data, has nullified efforts that could have added even more results to the increments of catalog use studies.

THEY ARE WISE PARENTS—who, shopping around for a college to try to get son or daughter into, make their first campus call at the college or university library. A campus library is by sheer necessity the hub of the educational wheel in any American higher learning institution. A well stocked library, directed by an accomplished librarian and served by a competent staff, sets the stage for further investigation at least.

Seventy-Six Grants Awarded

By ACRL Committee

ACRL'S COMMITTEE ON FOUNDATION GRANTS awarded sub-grants to seventy-six college libraries at a recent meeting in Atlanta. The bulk of the sub-grants were made from funds contributed to ACRL's program by the United States Steel Foundation, Inc. Two grants for materials in business administration were awarded from the gift of Nationwide Insurance. Four in fields of communication were awarded from the gift of the C.B.S. Foundation, Inc.

Applications in the ACRL grants program were received from nearly three hundred institutions. Needs expressed in the applications were obviously far greater than could be met by the funds available to the committee. In money the requests totalled more than $160,000. As indicators of the outside help sorely needed by college and university libraries they are even more impressive.

The awards made are generally indicative of areas in college and university library collections in need of the most active reinforcement. Seventeen awards are for science materials. Fourteen are for materials in business administration. Eight are for materials in art and music; seven for materials in literature and the classics; five for Russian studies; four for microfilm files of the New York Times, and four in communications. Other grants are awarded for basic reference books, back files of general periodicals, materials in current affairs, biographical reference books, materials in geography, books on nursing, and xerographic reproductions of out-of-print books.

This is the fourth year of ACRL's grants program. In its course thus far the committee has distributed more than $165,000 to over three hundred college libraries. Of those awarded grants this year thirty-three libraries participate in the program for the first time, thirty-four for the second, and nine for the third.

The ACRL committee consists of Mrs.

J. Henley Crosland, chairman; Humphrey G. Bousfield, Lewis C. Branscomb, Theodore A. Distler, Arthur T. Hamlin, Luella R. Pollock, Benjamin B. Richards, and Robert Vosper.

A list of the 1958/59 grants follows:

News from the Field

ACQUISITIONS, GIFTS, COLLECTIONS

CORNELL UNIVERSITY has been given the papers of the late Frank E. Gannett and Mrs. Gannett. The material spans more than fifty years of the newspaper publisher's activity in business, politics, philanthropy, and other fields as well as personal memorabilia.

THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA LIBRARIES has purchased two collections of papers relating to the early history of Haiti. The Jérémie papers comprise 2,000 plantation inventories, wills, marriage contracts, and public accountings dating from 1780 to 1803. The Rochambeau papers consist of 2,428 letters, commission gazettes, passports, and other items of governmental administration as well as maps and designs of the war with L'Ouverture, Dessalines, and Christophe.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGE LIBRARY, Manhattan, has acquired the collection of cook books assembled by the late Mrs. Ward Edwards of Warrensburg, Mo. Including the Abby L. Marlatt collection and volumes in the general collection, the library has more than 2,000 books on cookery.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS has received the first installment of the papers of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., from the general's widow. This impressive collection contains more than 200 letters written between 1890 and 1918 by President Roosevelt.

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY LIBRARY has added a new incunabulum: Sermones Fratris Roberti, written by Robertus Caraccioli and printed by Joannes de Forbinio in 1490. This volume is listed (with an erroneous page account) as no. 4464 in Hain's Reperitorium Bibliographicum.

MORE THAN 150 VOLUMES, including first editions of works by Herman Melville, George Borrow, and H. M. Tomlinson, have been presented to the Rutgers University Library by Victor Riesenfeld of New York City. All of the books have been carefully preserved.

The fourteen volumes of Melville's works include first editions of Typee, Omoo, Mardi, Redburn, White Jacket, Moby Dick, Pierre, Israel Potter, and Piazza Tales.

Donald A. Sinclair, curator of special collections at Rutgers, said that the collection of Borrow's works was "remarkable for its completeness." Some of the rare items in the collection originally appeared without Borrow's name.

Forty of the titles were by Tomlinson, thirty of them first editions, and eighty-eight travel works.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY LIBRARY has been presented with 1,800 items on typography collected by Edward DeWitt Taylor, founder and senior partner of a printing firm that has produced fine books in San Francisco for more than fifty years.

TRANSYLVANIA COLLEGE LIBRARY, Lexington, Ky., has been given a valuable collection of early books on sport. The donor was Miss Clara S. Peck of New York and Lexington. The outstanding item is The Book of St. Albans printed in 1486. Valued at $42,500, this is the only perfect copy of the first sporting book in English, the first to contain English verse and the first example of color printing in England.

BUILDINGS

CARNEGIE INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY, Pittsburgh, will have a new library building under construction this year. Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Hunt of Pittsburgh have given $2,800,000 for this purpose. Mr. Hunt, chairman of the executive committee of the Aluminum Company of America, is senior board member of the Carnegie Institute.

SIMMONS COLLEGE, Boston, will start a new library building this April. It will consist of two connecting units, one a broad two-story building, the other a five-story edifice. The needs of most library users will be satisfied on the main floor cutting across both units. Designed by Campbell & Aldrich of Boston, the building is the result of three years of planning spearheaded by Kenneth R. Shaffer, director of the library and the School of Library Science. He believes that the building will provide entirely new approaches to the solution of traditional library problems.

SETON HILL COLLEGE, Greensburg, Pa., has dedicated Reeves Memorial Library, a $500,000 modular building designed by the Reid Associates of Pittsburgh. It is named in honor of the late Dr. James A. Wallace Reeves, former president of the college.

TEXAS SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY dedicated its recently constructed Arts and Sciences Library September 25, 1958. The construction of the building was begun December 3, 1956. The library was completed in June 1958 with the final addition of a third story and the installation of a central air conditioning system.

The library was put into use on January 22, 1958 with the completion of the second story. The combined library facilities of Texas Southern University include over 94,000 volumes and 750 periodical subscriptions. The central stacks of the Arts and Sciences Library contain over 60,000 volumes, representing the areas of the humanities, social sciences, fine arts, education, health, physical education, and mathematics. Study carrels are provided in the central stack areas.

The library, of ultramodern design, covers over 49,000 square feet of ground and is the third in the university's library system. The other two are the Pharmacy Branch Library, housed in the School of Pharmacy Building and the Law Library, located in the School of Law.

UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT TRUSTEES are appealing to the State Legislature for $2,000,000 to replace the school's library building erected in 1885. Since that time student enrollment has grown from 400 to 3,200 and the book collection is nearly seven times greater.

PUBLICATIONS

REFERENCES LIBRARIANS specifically and others generally will be interested in A History of the United Nations Charter; the Role of the United States, 1940-1945, by Ruth B. Russell, assisted by Jeannette E. Muther (Washington, D. C.: The Brookings Institution, 1958, 1140p., $10.00). Based largely on unpublished Department of State documents, the volume deals with the Atlantic Charter and the conferences at Moscow, Cairo, Teheran, Dumbarton Oaks, and San Francisco that led finally to the United Nations Charter. In addition to an appendix on sources and a detailed index, the book contains thirteen appendices containing texts of actual documents.

THE FOLGER SHAKESPEARE LIBRARY has begun a publishing program to make its materials on English cultural history of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries available to a broader audience. The series will present concise illustrated works dealing with a wide variety of subjects in scholarly but readable fashion so that they will be useful to non-specialists.

The first six pamphlets priced at 75 cents a copy are: Music in Elizabethan England by Dorothy E. Mason; The English Church in the Sixteenth Century by Craig R. Thompson; The Life of William Shakespeare by Giles E. Dawson; Shakespeare's Theatre and the Dramatic Tradition by Louis B. Wright; English Dress in the Age of Shakespeare by Virginia A. LaMar; The Bible in English, 1525-1611 by Craig R. Thompson.

THE HOWARD COLLEGE LIBRARY, Birmingham, Ala., has published Historical Studies of Alabama Baptist Churches and Associations as the first number of the Howard College Library Research Series. This is a forty-three page list compiled by Ray M. Atchison and Arthur L. Walker, Jr. A brief prefatory note is signed by F. Wilbur Helmbold, librarian at Howard.

RECENT PUBLICATIONS of the University of Kansas Libraries are: A Catalog of an Exhibition . . . of Carolus Linnaeus by Thomas R. Buckman; Students and Libraries at the University of Kansas, a revised 1958 edition, edited by Robert L. Quinsey; William Butler Yeats. A Catalog of an Exhibition from the P. S. O'Hegarty Collection by Hester M. Black.

Library Opportunities in the National Defense Education Act of 1958 (Public Law 85-864) is the title of a pamphlet compiled by the staff of ALA for free distribution. It will be ready this month. Copies may be ordered from ALA.

American Bibliography. A Preliminary Checklist, 1801-1805 by Ralph R. Shaw, professor at the Graduate School of Library Service, and Richard H. Shoemaker, librarian of the Newark Colleges, Rutgers University, comprises the first five volumes of a work which when completed will fill the twenty-year gap in American national bibliography. The work was published by the Scarecrow Press in December.

THE COMPLETE WORKS of St. Thomas More, the Englishman who coined the word "Utopia," will be compiled and edited in a ten-year project launched at the Yale University Library. Financed by a large grant from a private donor, the project is designed to fill "one of the greatest gaps in the field of renaissance studies." More's works will be published by the Yale University Press in two series, one a scholarly edition with full materials for study, and the other a popular edition of selected works in modernized spelling. Nine or ten volumes in each series are envisioned.

MISCELLANEOUS

THREE GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIPS for the academic year 1959-60 are being offered by the University of Florida Libraries for study leading to a master's or doctor's degree in a subject field other than library science. Graduate assistants work approximately fifteen hours a week in bibliographical research or library administration. The stipend is $1,700 for nine months and assistants are exempt from out-of-state tuition fees. Application should be made before March 31, 1959 to: Director of Libraries, University of Florida, Gainesville.

HIGHLAND JUNIOR COLLEGE, Highland, Kan., has been designated as a Federal depository library in the First District of Kansas. It will receive selected publications.

FACULTY STATUS for the professional library staff at the University of Kansas has been achieved in terms set forth in a June 19 letter from Dean George B. Smith. It states: "The administration of the University recognizes the claim of the professionally trained library employees to tenure under roughly the same provisions which apply to faculty members.

Professionally trained library staff are considered to be those who by formal training in library school curricula and by experience can qualify for the positions which the University of Kansas budget classifies as Librarian I, Librarian II, and Librarian III.

The understanding of the administration with reference to the specific tenure commitments implied in this memorandum is as follows:

Except in unusual cases, the rank of Librarian I does not carry any implication of continuous tenure.

Those who serve as Librarian II for five years attain continuous tenure, unless they are notified to the contrary in writing by this office before the end of the fifth fiscal (bud-et) year of their employment that they were on an explicitly temporary basis or employed for a specific term.

Those who serve as Librarian III for one year attain continuous tenure unless they are notified to the contrary in writing by this office before the end of the first fiscal (budget) year of their employment that they were on an explicitly temporary basis or employed for a specific term.

The associate and assistant directors of libraries are considered as being in the same class as the tenured provisions within the Librarian III group.

The director of libraries attains continuous tenure at the moment he takes up his assigned duties.

In no case does the provision for continuous tenure imply the continuation of a staff member in any specific position."

The arrangements for Librarian I are the same as for an instructor, for Librarian II as for an assistant professor, for Librarian III the same as for an associate professor.

THE LECTURE SERIES sponsored by the Gertrude Clarke Whittall Poetry and Literature Fund in the Library of Congress began on October 13 and will continue through April 28. Distinguished poets, novelists, and critics such as Carl Sandburg, James T. Farrell, and Cleanth Brooks will participate. Tickets are available at nominal cost and the series is being broadcast on AM and FM by station WGMS.

THE MARCIA C. NOYES AWARD for outstanding achievement in medical librarianship has been awarded to William D. Postell, librarian and professor of medical bibliography, Louisiana State University of Medicine, New Orleans. The presentation was made at the 57th annual meeting of the Medical Library Association at Rochester, Minn.

THE FOURTH ANNUAL Midwest Academic Librarians Conference, April 24-25, 1959, will be jointly sponsored by Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., and DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind. The steering committee is working on the conference program that will be mailed with an advance registration form early in February.

COPIES OF THE Report of the Staff Association of the New York City College Libraries are available from Robert A. Colby, Paul Klapper Library, Queens College, Flushing, New York.

THE LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT PROJECT of the Pacific Northwest Library Association, financed by Ford Foundation funds, is on its way to completion. Results of this study will be published this spring in four volumes by the University of Washington Press. Volume III will deal with college, university, and special libraries in Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington and the Province of British Columbia. This volume will include: "Control and Policy Making in College and University Libraries" by William H. Harbold, professor of political science at the University of Washington; "The College and University Library as a Research Aid" by Boyd Martin, dean of liberal arts at the University of Idaho; "The University Library and Its Community" by Carl Hintz, librarian of the University of Oregon; a chapter on the medical libraries of the Pacific Northwest by a composite group of librarians of the area; and "Library Service to the Legal Profession in the Northwest" by Marion G. Gallagher, law librarian at the University of Washington. Additional chapters will deal with the Federal libraries in the Pacific Northwest and the arts in the libraries of the Pacific Northwest with separate chapters on art and music.

After these studies are published, a regional committee with state sub-committees will work to extract maximum benefit from them. The PNLA anticipates considerable strengthening of all libraries in the area.

THE SPECIAL LIBRARIES ASSOCIATION has taken a major step toward raising professional standards in the field of special librarianship. By mail ballot the members approved amendments to the association's constitution to provide for new membership requirements based on the educational qualifications and professional experience of individual members. These new requirements were recommended by a professional standards committee after a two-year study of the problem.

Basic qualifications for senior (active) membership are a degree in library science from recognized library school plus three years of professional experience in a special library. Several equivalent combinations of education and experience are acceptable. Junior (associate) membership requires the same education but less experience. There is an affiliate membership for those engaged in bibliographic work outside a special library. The institutional membership has been replaced by a sustaining membership for organizations desiring to support the association financially.

Effective January 1 these requirements must be met by all new members. Applicants for voting membership must be employed in a special library at the time of application.

THE SLA TRANSLATION CENTER at the John Crerar Library has begun an enlarged program of translation acquisition in cooperation with the Office of Technical Services of the U.S. Department of Commerce. Copies of translations received by both agencies will be deposited at the Center and at the Library of Congress where they will be available through photostat or microfilm copies.

MICROCOSM, the house organ of University Microfilms, Inc., reports in its summer 1958 issue that orders for Xerox copies of out-of-print books continue to flow into its office. So far the work has been on a custom basis but the firm's tendency is to supply first books in greatest demand. To this end request lists are collated so that the most wanted titles can be identified. Librarians who have not yet sent want-lists are urged to do so as soon as possible. The issue lists 125 items filmed especially for the reprint series.

Eugene Power comments editorially: "The prospect of all books always 'in print' is a little heady and certainly frightening. The saving feature is that they are 'in print' only when needed, without the prospect of huge investments in stacks of books for which there is only uncertain demand."

THE YALE UNIVERSITY PRESS has chosen Chester Kerr, its secretary since 1949, as its new director. He has had a varied and successful editorial career and is author of A Report on American University Presses (1949) and American University Publishing, 1955.

ALA representatives at recent collegiate ceremonies were MABEL E. WILLOUGHBY, director of the Hardin-Simmons University Library, at the inauguration of Gordon Richard Bennett as president of McMurry College, Abilene, Texas on November 18, and ELLIOTT HARDAWAY, director of libraries, University of South Florida, at the inauguration of David Marion Delo as president of the University of Tampa on December 13.

Personnel

DR. WILLIAM R. PULLEN became librarian of Georgia State College of Business Administration in Atlanta on January 1, 1959. Dr.

William R. Pullen

Pullen comes to his new position from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill where he has been assistant librarian for technical processes since July 1957 and associate professor of political science. He began his work at North Carolina in 1951 as documents librarian, holding the faculty title of Assistant Professor in Political Science. He earned the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in political science and the B.S. in library science from the University of North Carolina. In 1949 and 1950 he worked at the Library of Congress with Dr. William S. Jenkins in editing the State Records Microfilm Project, a joint undertaking of the Library of Congress and the University of North Carolina.

The best known contribution of Dr. Pullen is in the field of government documents. Through his teaching of documents at the University and his work as documents librarian, particularly in the area of collecting, he has made the University of North Carolina one of the leading documents centers on the university level. Since 1954 he has been a member of the ALA Public Documents Committee and was chairman of a Southeastern Library Association committee which studied the methods of exchange of state documents. In 1955 he compiled A Check List of Legislative Journals Issued Since 1937 by States of the U.S.A. which was published by the American Library Association and, as documents librarian, he edited thirty numbers of the Check List of Official North Carolina Publications Received by the University of North Carolina Library.

His promotion to assistant librarian for technical processes was a recognition of his exceptional administrative ability. During the spring of 1958 he was chosen as one of eight library administrators to participate in the Carnegie Project in Advanced Library Administration at Rutgers University. Under his direction during the past year and one-half the acquisitions and processing departments of the University of North Carolina have been reorganized for more efficient control and management.

In Dr. Pullen, the Georgia State College of Business Administration will have a librarian with complete sincerity, a delightful sense of humor, a keen ability to analyze administrative problems, and a tactful but firm approach to personnel problems.—I. T. Littleton.

FRANK L. SCHICK has been appointed assistant director, Library Services Branch, U.S. Office of Education. He received his B.A. degree from Wayne State University, his M.A. and B.L.S. from the University of Chicago, and his Ph.D. in Library Science from the University of Michigan.

During World War II Mr. Schick was librarian of the Civil Affairs Division and Psychological Warfare Division in Europe. Before joining the Office of Education in 1958, he served on the staffs of Wayne State University, the University of Chicago, and the Detroit Public Library and taught library science at Columbia University and the University of Michigan. He has contributed articles to professional journals and served as issue editor of the July 1958 issue of Library Trends, entitled "Trends in Book Publishing." He is the author of The Paperbound Book in America (R. R. Bowker Co., 1958).

Dr. Schick's primary functions in the Library Services Branch are the coordination of research activities in the field of children's and school, college and research, and public libraries, and the studies and surveys conducted in connection with the administration of the Library Services Act. His specific field of responsibility is education for librarianship.

His activities in the ALA include membership on the Bookbinding Committee. He was a member of a subcommittee which in 1957 prepared the Binding Specifications for Lesser Used Materials. He is chairman of the Paperback Subcommittee which is developing a set of specifications for library preservation of original paperbacks. Dr. Schick is also Chairman of the Foreign Desiderata Publications Committee—RTSD—Acquisition Section, and a member of the Washington Conference Program Committee of ACRL.

Equipment Grants Awarded by College Libraries Section

FOURTEEN COLLEGE LIBRARIES are awarded grants in equipment from funds given to ALA by Remington-Rand, a division of the Sperry-Rand Corporation. The sub-grants have been made by a committee from ACRL's College Libraries Section which met in Columbus, Ohio, in December.

The sub-grants will provide items of standard library furniture and equipment manufactured by Library Bureau. This is the third such grant by Remington-Rand but the first administered by the College Libraries Section. Previously the sub-grants from Remington-Rand funds were awarded as part of the work of ACRL's Foundation Grants Committee.

Six of the colleges receiving grants were also awarded grants in the program of the ACRL committee: Athens College, Christian Brothers College, The College of Wooster, Colorado College, LaGrange College, and the University of Redlands. The two programs were conducted independently, and the record of the assignment for sub-grants by one committee was not known to the other.

The requests for sub-grants reviewed by the College Libraries Section committee totalled 201. The committee was composed of John H. Lancaster, chairman; Lois E. Engleman, and Edward C. Heintz. The committee met at the Ohio State University Library.

"ACRL's College Libraries Section," comments Mr. Lancaster, "is grateful for the opportunity of cooperating with Remington Rand in the distribution of these sub-grants for equipment. Not only do the grants benefit individual college libraries by making possible for them the procurement of wanted equipment, they also help emphasize to college administrators library needs. A study of the applications for grants is a revelation of the inadequacies with which many, even most, college librarians constantly work. It is a great satisfaction to be a party to the elimination of at least a few of those inadequacies."

The College Libraries Section was requested to make the awards of the 1958-59 equipment sub-grants by a decision of the ACRL Foundation Grants Committee at the San Francisco conference of ALA. At that time the ACRL committee expressed the hope that the grants by Remington Rand would continue and that they could be administered in alternate years by the College Libraries Section and by the Junior College Libraries Section.

A list of the 1958/59 grants follows:

ATHENS COLLEGE, Athens, Ala. (Hallie H. Carson): $400. For a catalog case and file for pictures, pamphlets, clippings.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS COLLEGE, Memphis, Tenn. (Brother Roger): $200. For a book display rack and board.

COLLEGE OF WOOSTER, Wooster, Ohio (Maudie Linn Nesbitt): $300. For an exhibit case.

COLORADO COLLEGE, Colorado Springs, Colo. (Ellsworth Mason): $450. For an exhibit case.

FLORIDA NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL MEMORIAL COLLEGE, St. Augustine, Fla. (Guy C. Craft): $450. For an exhibit case.

GENEVA COLLEGE, Beaver Falls, Pa. (Mrs. J. D. Leighty): $450. For an exhibit case.

GOLDEN GATE COLLEGE, San Francisco, Calif. (Paul Kruse): $250. For an atlas stand.

LAGRANGE COLLEGE, LaGrange, Ga. (Mrs. Irene W. Melson): $300. For book display racks.

LOYOLA COLLEGE, Baltimore, Md. (Rev. William Davish): $400. For a microfilm reader.

MARYVILLE COLLEGE, Maryville, Tenn. (Virginia Turrentine): $300. For a book display rack and a section of wall magazine shelving.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE, Philadelphia, Pa. (Eugene F. Gilroy): $250. For an atlas stand.

UNIVERSITY OF REDLANDS, Redlands, Calif. (Esther M. Hile): $400. For a map case.

WAYNESBURG COLLEGE, Waynesburg, Pa. (Mrs. May Clovis): $300. For reference room furniture.

WHEATON COLLEGE, Wheaton, Ill. (Ivy T. Olson): $300. For book display rack or an exhibit case.

Subject Specialists Section Bylaws

ARTICLE I NAME

The name of this organization is the Subject Specialists Section of the Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL).

ARTICLE II OBJECT

The Section represents the subject specialists and librarians working in particular subject areas in the American Library Association. It acts for the ACRL, in cooperation with other professional groups, in regard to those aspects of library service that require special subject knowledge in the disciplines of the humanities and social sciences and of science and technology.

ARTICLE III MEMBERSHIP

Any member of the ACRL may elect membership in this Section upon payment of his dues to the American Library Association and any such additional dues as may be required for membership in the ACRL and its sections. Every member has the right to vote. Any personal member is eligible to hold office.

ARTICLE IV MEETINGS

SEC. 1. Annual meeting. The regular meeting of the Section shall be held at the time and place of the annual conference of the American Library Association, as a part of the annual meeting of the ACRL.

SEC. 2. Special meetings. Notice of any special meeting, together with a statement of the business to be transacted, shall be mailed to each member at least thirty days before such a meeting. No business other than that stated in such notice may be transacted.

SEC. 3. Quorum. Twenty-five members constitute a quorum at any meeting of the Section.

ARTICLE V OFFICERS

SEC. 1. Enumeration. The officers of the Section are a chairman, a chairman-elect, the immediate-past chairman, and a secretary.

SEC. 2. Terms of office.

(a) Chairman. The chairman serves for one year. He is not eligible for the office of chairman or chairman-elect upon the expiration of his term.

(b) Chairman-elect. The chairman-elect serves as vice-chairman for one year. At its expiration, or earlier in case of a vacancy in the office of chairman, he succeeds to the office of chairman and serves until the expiration of the term for which he was elected chairman.

(c) Secretary. The secretary is elected for a term of three years.

ARTICLE VI EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

SEC. 1. Composition. The Executive Committee consists of the officers, the representative of the Section on the ACRL Board of Directors, and the presiding officer of each subsection.

SEC. 2. Powers and duties. The Executive Committee has authority over the affairs of the Section during the period between meetings of the Section, provided that none of its actions may conflict with, or modify, any action taken by the Section. The Executive Committee shall authorize the expenditure of funds for activities authorized by the Section. It shall perform such other duties as specified in these Bylaws and shall report upon its work at the annual meeting of the Section.

SEC. 3. Meetings. The Executive Committee shall meet during the annual meeting of the Section. Special meetings may be called by the chairman and shall be called upon the written request of a majority of the members of the Executive Committee.

SEC. 4. Quorum. A majority of members constitutes a quorum at any meeting of the Executive Committee.

SEC. 5. Mail votes. Mail votes may be taken in accordance with the procedure established for the ALA Executive Board (ALA Bylaws Art. IX, Sec. 8).

COMMITTEES

(a) Standing committees. Standing committees may be authorized by the Section for the consideration of matters requiring continuity of attention and of members. A list of standing committees including their membership and a definition of duties shall be published annually.

(b) Special committees. Committees for the performance of a particular assignment may be authorized by the Section or the Executive Committee to be approved by the Section at its next annual meeting. Without authorization by the Section no special committee shall be continued for more than two years.

(c) Composition. Committees shall be composed of an odd number of members.

(d) Appointments. Unless the members are specified in these Bylaws they shall be appointed by the chairman with the approval of the Executive Committee.

(e) Quorum. A majority of members but not less than three constitute a quorum.

(f) Mail votes. Mail votes may be taken in accordance with the procedure established for ALA committees (ALA Bylaws Art. IX, Sec. 8).

(g) Reports. Each committee shall report to the Section at its annual meeting unless otherwise specified in these Bylaws or the act authorizing the committee.

(h) Discontinuance. A committee may be discontinued by a majority vote of the members present and voting at an annual meeting. The Executive Committee shall recommend the discontinuance of a committee when, in the opinion of the Executive Committee, the usefulness of the committee has ceased.

SEC. 2. Standing committees.

(a) Terms of office. Unless otherwise specified, members of standing committees shall be appointed for overlapping terms of two years each, and may be reappointed for one additional term. For the first appointments following the adoption of this article, the Executive Committee shall designate the terms in such a manner as to allow the terms of approximately half the membership to expire each year.

(b) Individual committees. There shall be the following standing committees with duties as specified below, and any such standing committees as may be authorized in the future.

(1) Committee on Membership. To take appropriate action to encourage membership in the Section.

(2) Program Committee. To prepare the program for the annual meeting. The Program Committee consists of the chairman, the chairman-elect, the secretary, the presiding officers of subsections, and a member appointed from the membership at large.

SEC. 3. Special committees. The duties of any special committee and the terms of office of its members shall be determined by the Executive Committee, unless they are specified in the act authorizing the committee.

ARTICLE VIII
NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS

SEC. 1. Nominations. There shall be a Nominating Committee to present candidates for the offices of chairman, secretary, and of representative(s) of the Section on the ACRL Board of Directors. At least two candidates shall be presented for each office. The candidates shall be selected so as to assure approximately equal representation to the area of humanities and social sciences and to the area of pure and applied science. The chairman and the chairman-elect may not represent the same area of learning. The office of representative on the ACRL Board of Directors shall rotate between representatives of the above areas of learning during alternate terms. Other nominations may be submitted in writing by any five members and shall be filed with the secretary at least three months before the annual meeting. Any such nominations shall be included in the ballot.

No candidate may be presented who has not consented to his candidacy in writing. No candidate may be presented who is not a member in good standing at the time of nomination.

SEC. 2. Nominating Committee. The Committee's term expires with its final report. Members are not eligible for a consecutive term. Members of the Executive Committee are not eligible to serve on the Nominating Committee. The Nominating Committee shall report to the secretary within the deadlines established for nominations in the ACRL.

SEC. 3. Elections. Elections shall be conducted by mail ballot. A copy of the ballot shall be mailed by the secretary to each member and shall be returned to him in accordance with procedures and deadlines for elections in the ACRL. Candidates receiving a plurality of votes cast shall be elected and shall be so reported by an Election Committee at the annual meeting. In case of a tie the Election Committee shall decide the election by lot.

ARTICLE IX SUBSECTIONS

SEC. 1. Authorization. Any group of at least twenty-five members whose activities or interests fall within a particular discipline of learning distinct from that of any existing subsection may be authorized to establish a subsection upon written petition to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee may waive the above minimum in exceptional circumstances.

SEC. 2. Jurisdiction. Subsections represent the Section within their particular subject area. The Executive Committee decides conflicts among subsections and rules upon the jurisdiction of each of them. A subsection may not engage in activities that are in conflict with the program of the Section.

SEC. 3. Procedures. Procedures in subsections shall correspond to those in the Section. No quorum of less than ten members may be authorized in any subsection. If the presiding officer of a subsection is unable to attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Section, he shall notify the chairman. He may designate a proxy from the governing body of the subsection to represent him at the meeting of the Executive Committee.

SEC. 4. Discontinuance. The Executive Committee may recommend that a subsection be discontinued when, in the opinion of the Executive Committee, the usefulness of the subsection has ceased, or when its membership has remained below the minimum stipulated for its establishment for two consecutive years. If the recommendation is adopted at the annual meeting by a majority vote of the members present and voting, the subsection stands dissolved.

ARTICLE X PREVIOUS NOTICE

Publication of notices in an issue of COLLEGE AND RESEARCH LIBRARIES or a Section newsletter appearing within the required period of time fulfills the requirements of notice by mail.

ARTICLE XI GENERAL PROVISIONS

Wherever these Bylaws make no specific provisions, the organization of, and procedures in, the Section shall correspond to those set forth in the Constitution and Bylaws of the ACRL and, wherever the latter are silent, to those set forth in the Constitution and Bylaws of the ALA.

ARTICLE XII AMENDMENTS

SEC. 1. Proposals. Amendments to these Bylaws may be proposed in writing by the Executive Committee, a committee appointed for the purpose, or any seven members. Proposals originating with groups of members shall be filed with the secretary at least three months before the annual meeting.

SEC. 2. Notice. A copy of any proposed amendment shall be mailed by the secretary to each member at least thirty days before the annual meeting, unless the proposal was reported at the preceding annual meeting.

SEC. 3. Vote. A vote of three-fourths of the members present and voting at an annual meeting shall carry a proposed amendment.

ARTICLE XIII TEMPORARY PROVISIONS

These Bylaws shall take effect upon the adjournment of the meeting at which they are adopted.

These Bylaws were adopted by ACRL's Subject Specialists Section at its business meeting July 15 at ALA's San Francisco Conference. It was prepared by Edward A. Chapman, Werner B. Ellinger, and Ruth E. Schoneman acting as an ad hoc subcommittee of the Section's Executive Committee.
