service, he was involved in several cooperative ventures among libraries in the region and through MOBIUS, Missouri's state-wide consortium of academic and public libraries.

Deaths

Peter Zuber, engineering and technology librarian at Brigham Young University (BYU), has died. Zuber was a member of STS for many years having served as cochair of the Publications Committee, moderator for STS-L, and most recently on the Scholarly Communication Committee. Before joining BYU in 2005, Zuber worked at Xerox Corporation and at several start-up companies that invented and developed color copiers and color printing systems in the Atlanta, Georgia, area. He spent time traveling back and forth to Japan working with Sharp Corporation to manufacture these products. He has over 30 patents in his name. In 2003 Zuber was able to fulfill a lifetime dream and got his private pilot's license. He and his wife bought their first airplane, a Piper Cherokee, on the 100th anniversary of the Wright Brother's first flight. ZC
