ACADEMIC BUSINESS LIBRARIANS-AUTHORS SOUGHT

Elizabeth Casellas, associate professor and director of the Norman Mayer Library, Graduate School of Business Administration, Tulane University, New Orleans, LA 70118, is conducting a national survey among academic business librarians to determine faculty status, characteristics of publication, and other data. All authors who have not sent in their list of publications to Professor Casellas are urged to do so in order that general trends can be observed and characteristics noted. A search has been made in NUC and in LL for titles published by academic business librarians, but the list is far from complete. Your cooperation would be much appreciated.

Dr. Blum is currently ALA's representative to American National Standards Institute Committee Z39 on Library Work, Documentation, and Related Publishing Practices, a member of ACRL's Publications Committee, the coordinator of ACRL's search for a new editor for College & Research Libraries, chairman of the Music Library Association's Audiovisual and Microform Committee, District of Columbia representative to the Potomac Technical Processing Librarians, an active member of DCLA, and past-president of Beta Phi Mu. He has published widely in the fields of musicology and librarianship.

Dr. Blum is married to the former Beula Eisenstadt (Ed.D., University of Michigan).

DONALD C. ANTHONY, associate university librarian at Columbia University since 1969, has been appointed director of libraries at Syracuse University, effective July 1. Anthony will succeed Warren N. Boes, who was director from 1963 to last July 1, when he took a similar position at the University of Georgia, Athens. Metod M. Milac, acting director of libraries at Syracuse, will return to his position as assistant director in July.

Anthony, who was forty-eight on March 29, joined Columbia in 1966 as assistant director of libraries. For five years before that he was associate librarian and head of the manuscripts and history section of the New York State Library at Albany. He has been librarian at the Fargo, North Dakota, public library and the library at Wilmington, Delaware, which he established to house the archives of E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co.

He earned his bachelor's degree in 1951 and his master of library science in 1954 at the University of Wisconsin and has studied at the University of Geneva, Switzerland; American University; and the Graduate School of Public Administration at SUNY Albany. In 1970-71 he studied the use of audiovisual materials in university libraries under a grant from the Council on Library Resources. His wife, Mary, is also a librarian. They have three children.
