

Margaret Harter, head of information services at the Kinsey Institute for Research in Sex, Gender, and Reproduction, has been awarded the 1995-96 Herbert F. and Virginia White Professional Development Award by the Indiana University Libraries. The $2,500 award will enable Harter, who has been involved in online searching for 10 years, to lead a major revision and update of the Kinsey Institute's unique thesaurus of subject terms, the only comprehensive thesaurus of sexuality research. Herbert White was dean of the Indiana School of Library and Information Science from 1980 to 1990.

John V. Richardson Jr., associate professor in the Graduate School of Education and Information Studies at the University of California-Los Angeles, was one of two fellows for the Association of Library and Information Science Education (ALISE) Russia Project this spring. Richardson lectured at the Moscow Academy of Culture and the St. Petersburg Academy of Culture on the history and teaching of general reference work, the architectural logic of question answering, and knowledge-based or expert systems. The other fellow was Barbara Moran, dean of the School of Information and Library Science at the University of North Carolina, who lectured on management at the St. Petersburg Academy of Culture.

Charles Schultz, professor and William P. Clements archivist at Texas A&M University, has been named the first recipient of the Irene B. Hoadley professorship in academic librarianship there. An archivist who specializes in American maritime history, Schultz will use the $7,000 stipend to complete and publish a manuscript about life on board ships during the 1849 gold rush. At Texas A&M Schultz has served as university archivist (1971-1993) and as Clements archivist, charged with overseeing the papers of former Texas governor William P. Clements. The Hoadley professorship is named to honor former library director Irene B. Hoadley's two decades of service.

People in the News

Pam Spiegel

Michael Shumate, cataloger in the Special Collections Library at Duke University, was named winner of the "Best of the Net 1995" award by America Online for the best literature site (amateur division) on the World Wide Web. Shumate maintains a site for hypertext fiction called "Hyperizons." The award citation describes the site as being "chock full of resources on postmodern fiction and its computerized cousin, hypertext fiction." You can explore the site at <http://www.duke.edu/~mshumate/hyperfic.html>.

Appointments

Robin B. Fogel has been promoted to library director at the State University of New York, State College of Optometry's Harold Kohn Vision Science Library. She had served as assistant librarian there since 1994. A graduate of Queens College, where she received her MLS, Fogel is a summa cum laude graduate of the University of Connecticut. She formerly served as reference librarian at New York Medical College.

Robin B. Fogel

Paul Gherman, director of libraries at Kenyon College, has been named university librarian at Vanderbilt University effective July 1. Gherman's previous positions include special assistant to the president and director of libraries at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University; and various positions at Iowa State University, Pennsylvania State University, and Wayne State University. "Paul Gherman is exceptionally knowledgeable about and committed to all aspects of library development, from collections of major works to the most advanced uses of Puzzled about Collection Assessment?

We can make it fit together for you.

WLN Conspectus &
RLG Conspectus
Support

Collection
Assessment
Manual & Training

WLN

Collection Analyses &
BCL3 Comparisons

PC and MAC
Software and Training

Call Sally Loken at WLN Collection Assessment Services
800-342-5956 or email to loken@wln.com

information technology," said Vanderbilt provost Thomas G. Burish.

John D. Gaboury, dean of libraries at Mississippi State University (MSU), Starkville, has been appointed assistant vice-president for library services and information technology at William Paterson College in New Jersey. Before joining MSU in 1991, Gaboury served as university librarian at Radford University (1988–1991) and at Northeastern University in Chicago (1985–1988). He also served in library positions at Niagara County Community College, Greenfield Community College, and the University of South Florida, among others. He was cochair of the Mississippi Libraries State-wide Information Network Task Force, and was serving as president of the Mississippi Library Commission's Advisory Committee when he accepted the position at William Paterson.

John D. Gaboury

Carol Hammond has been appointed director of the International Business Information Centre at the American Graduate School of International Management in Glendale, Arizona. She previously served as head of technology support and development; head of library research, development, and external relations; and head of research and information access services at Arizona State University West. Before that she held positions at Gonzaga University and UCLA's College Library. A frequent contributor to library literature—including

Carol Hammond

Ed. note: Entries in this column are taken from library newsletters, letters from personnel offices, individuals using institutional letterhead, and other sources. To ensure that your personnel news is considered for publication, write to Pam Spiegel, Assistant Editor, C&RL News, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611-2795; e-mail: pspiegel@ala.org.

ing C&RL, C&RL News, and Research Strategies—Hammond currently serves on the Editorial Board of Reference Services Review.

R. N. Sharma has been appointed director of the Drain Jordan Library at West Virginia State College. He previously served as director of the World Institute of Library and Information Science (U.S. office); director of libraries and associate professor of history at the University of Evansville; assistant director for public services and collection development at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh; head librarian at Pennsylvania State University-Beaver Campus; reference librarian at Colgate University; and assistant librarian at the College of the Ozarks. An active professional, Sharma has chaired and served on many committees of ALA, ACRL, and the Asian/Pacific American Librarians Association. He is editor of Library Times International, associate editor of International Leads, and serves on the editorial boards of other library journals.

R. N. Sharma

Dawn Bastian is now head of bibliographic record services at Northwestern University.

Robert L. Byrd has been named acting university librarian at Duke University.

Carole Bell has been appointed head of serials and acquisitions services at Northwestern University.

Pam Burton is now head of the Systems Department at East Carolina University.

Danielle Clarke is now public services librarian at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Laura Cohen has been named network services librarian at the University at Albany, State University of New York.

Joan E. Conger is now evening reference librarian at Southwest Texas State University.

Ralph E. Dalton has been named documents librarian at Southwest Texas State University.

Mary Karen Delmont is now archivist and special collections librarian at Buffalo State College.

Gary Flanagan has been appointed automation coordinator at Morehead State University in Morehead, Kentucky.

Kathryn B. Harnish has been appointed coordinator of systems operations/reference librarian at the University of Maryland Baltimore County.

Stephen M. Hayes has been named business services librarian at the University of Notre Dame.

Christopher H. Hoebeke is now information delivery coordinator at the University of Virginia Library.

Mary Hollerich has been appointed inter-library loan librarian at Northwestern University.

Philip Howze is now head of reference at Wichita State University.

David Jackson recently became assistant curator for the Special Collections department at the North Carolina State University Libraries.

Alice Kirby has been appointed librarian for user services in the Science and Engineering Libraries at the University of Virginia.

John A. Lambert has been named library network manager at the University of Oregon, Eugene.

Gary Klein has been appointed the new management/business economics librarian at the Mark O. Hatfield Library at Willamette University.

Deborah LaFond is now social sciences bibliographer at the University at Albany, State University of New York.

Naomi Lederer has been named reference librarian/instruction specialist at Colorado State University, Fort Collins.

Michael McCaffrey is now government publications/maps international state document librarian at Northwestern University.

Susan Malbin has been appointed reference librarian at the Governor Thomas E. Dewey Graduate Library for Public Affairs and Policy at the University at Albany, State University of New York.

Gail Munde is the new associate director of academic library services at East Carolina University.

Susan K. Nutter, director of the North Carolina State University Libraries, has been given the additional title of vice-provost.

Laura M. Osegueda has been appointed head of the Veterinary Medical Library at North Carolina State University.

Claudia A. Perry has been named assistant dean for educational information services at the State University of New York, State College of Optometry.

Diane Perushek has been appointed assistant university librarian for collection management at Northwestern University.

Randy D. Ralph is now systems and extension librarian at Guilford Technical Community College in Greensboro, North Carolina.

Deborah Rinderknecht has been named chair of the Central Reference Services Department at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Joseph Ross has been appointed rare book cataloger at the University of Notre Dame.

Andrea C. Schwartz is now periodicals and microforms librarian at Southwest Texas State University.

E. Jaclyn Shieh recently assumed the position of original cataloger for electronic resources at the University of Virginia.

Scott Silet has joined the reference staff at the University of Virginia Library as instruction and information services librarian.

Mary Ellen Spencer has been appointed documents librarian at North Carolina State University Libraries.

Andrea Stamm is the new head of the Catalog Department at Northwestern University.

Kristin Standaert is now government publications/maps librarian at Northwestern University.

Joanne Tetrault recently became assistant head of access services at North Carolina State University Libraries.

Scott Van Jacob has been named Iberian and Latin American studies librarian at the University of Notre Dame.

Advertiser index

Academic Press	308
American Psychological	cover 2
Archival Products	285
Baker & Taylor	314
Bowker/Reed	cover 3
Britannica Online	292
EBSCO-Host	303
Engineering Information	288
Haworth Press	300
ISI	313, 322
Routledge	283
SIRSI	cover 4, 311
Sociological Abstracts	296
UMI	273
University of Missouri	276
WLN	318

Sarah Watstein is now interim director of university computing services-academic campus at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Sue Waterman is now resource services librarian for German and Romance languages and literatures at Johns Hopkins University.

Erwin Wodarczak has been named records analyst/archivist at the University of British Columbia Libraries.

Anna Wu has been appointed head of public services at the Seeley G. Mudd Science and Engineering Library at Northwestern University.

Patrick Yott has been named social science data services coordinator at the University of Virginia Library.

both the President's and the Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Librarianship.

Ann Stone has retired from the Duke University Library after 36 years there, during which she served for 20 years as undergraduate librarian, and 16 years as personnel librarian. An active participant and leader of library personnel groups in ALA, Stone also had a leading role in creating Duke's Librarians Assembly in 1970, and served as its first president.

Paul A. Zadner has retired as associate librarian in the Information Services Department at Buffalo State College. During his 23 years at Butler Library, Zadner also served as head of public access.

Retirements

Bruce K. Andrew, information services librarian and head of readers' services at Buffalo State College, recently retired after 30 years of service. Andrew was the 1990 recipient of the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Librarianship.

Miles M. Jackson retired in January after 21 years as professor and dean of the School of Library and Information Studies at the University of Hawaii at Manoa. Jackson previously served as library director at Hampton University, Atlanta University, and the Free Library of Philadelphia, and territorial librarian in American Samoa. A senior Fulbright professor at the University of Tehran in 1968-69, Jackson served as president of the Association for Library and Information Science Education in 1989-90.

Leszek Karpinski recently retired from the University of British Columbia (UBC) Libraries after 26 years of service. Karpinski joined UBC in 1969 as a cataloger, then moved to the Humanities Division in 1971 to become reference librarian. In 1985 he assumed responsibility for Western European languages bibliography as well. Jocelyn Godolphin, humanities division head at UBC, called Karpinski "a package of talent that the UBC Library will not see again."

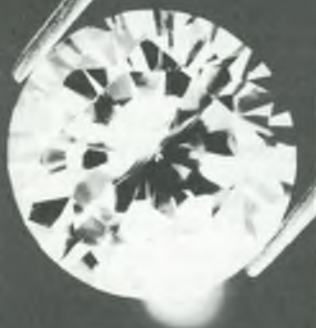

Sister Martin Joseph Jones has retired after 26 years of service to Buffalo State College. Jones established the Archives and Special Collections area 20 years ago. In 1987 she received

Deaths

Maud D. Cole, retired keeper of rare books at the New York Public Library (NYPL), died March 8. Before joining the NYPL, Cole served for nine years at the Library of Congress, for one year in the Gifts and Exchanges Department, and thereafter as reference librarian and cataloger of atlases in the Map Division. Active in many professional organizations, including the Special Libraries Association (SLA) and the American Bibliographical Society, Cole served as secretary of ACRL's Rare Books and Manuscripts Section from 1977 to 1979.

Barbara Hycnar, associate university librarian/head of technical services at Northwestern University's Law Library since 1980, died January 3. Active on library committees, Hycnar served on the NOTIS Network Advisory Committee, the NOTIS Transition Team and its subgroups, and the Cataloging Policy Committee.

Florence Klemm, retired librarian at the U.S. Air Force Academy Library in Colorado Springs, died in December at the age of 53. A graduate of Harding College and the University of Denver, Klemm served for 25 years as a reference librarian specializing in English, music, foreign languages, philosophy, and fine arts. After her health deteriorated, she was medically retired from government service in 1993, then was honored with the Department of the Air Force's Award for Exemplary Civilian Service. ■

Pure substance.

A wealth of valuable information.

It's clear to see why researchers value CURRENT CONTENTS® so highly.

Each week, it gives them more information than they could otherwise uncover about current developments in their fields. Detailed bibliographic data...complete author abstracts...author keywords...KeyWords Plus®...author and publisher names and addresses.

All useful, relevant data carefully extracted from the most scholarly, peer-reviewed journals in the world. Which makes CURRENT CONTENTS a true reflection of the research that influences their work.

And because ISI® indexes that information so thoroughly, researchers can retrieve it quite easily. And conveniently access the full text through our own document delivery service, The Genuine Article®.

After all, ISI has been making things easy for researchers for over thirty-five years. By knowing what they value...and then giving it to them. Which gives them the edge they need.

CURRENT CONTENTS®

For the most flawless coverage of the finest research journals around the world.

For a free trial,

CALL:
1.800.356.4474 or
215.386.0100

Email:
isiforder@isinet.com

Web:
<http://www.isinet.com>