

Russell Shank Chosen Vice-President

Russell Shank, director of libraries at The Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., was elected to the office of Vice-President/President-Elect of the Association of College and Research Libraries in the recent elections. With less than a third of the membership casting ballots, Shank polled 1,891 votes to E. J. Josey's 1,454. Shank has served on the ACRL Board of Directors and is a past president of ALA's Information Science and Automation Division. He is currently chairman of the Advisory Committee to the Library Technology Program. Shank holds a B.S. in Electrical Engineering and a B.A. in Librarianship, both from the University of Washington; an M.B.A. from the University of Wisconsin; and a D.L.S. from Columbia University. He will serve as Vice-President through the end of the Annual Conference in 1972 when he will become the thirty-fourth president of the association.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE WORLD OF LIBRARIANSHIP? PROLLAP

PROLLAP is a specialized approval plan. But there is no existing approval plan quite like it. PROLLAP is intended to meet the information needs of librarians, information scientists, and library students. It is a plan designed to acquire the literature of librarianship. PROLLAP will supply not only the publications of the well known publishers, but also ephemeral publications which are difficult to secure. A program can be designed for all types of libraries—both large and small. One can be designed for yours.

The benefits of PROLLAP are:

- 1 reduce the costs of selecting and ordering publications
- 2 support continuing education programs of library staff
- 3 support library education programs
- 4 broaden coverage of important ephemeral materials
