

grant given earlier this year by the Winston-Salem Foundation.

•The University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, has received a Title II-C grant of $233,000 on behalf of the Associated Music Libraries Group (AMLG). The money will fund a pilot project to be undertaken by three AMLG libraries—Eastman, Indiana, and Berkeley—to demonstrate the feasibility of proposed methods and standards for retrospective conversion of bibliographic information in the field of music. The standards are those developed at the Council on Library Resources Conference on Standards for the Retrospective Conversion of Music (see C&RL News, July/August 1985, p.342, for details). The pilot project will add or enhance approximately 30,000 titles in the OCLC and RLIN networks, which in turn are committed to the exchange of MARC tapes resulting from the project.

•Illinois State University, Normal, has received a bequest of $50,000 from the estate of the late Harold Sage, of Normal, for the maintenance of the library's collection of Abraham Lincoln books and pamphlets which Sage had donated to the University in 1979. The collection consists of some 1200 books and 1500 pamphlets on Lincoln, many of them limited editions.

•Old Sturbridge Village, Massachusetts, has been awarded a grant of $22,084 by the National Endowment for the Humanities for the conservation of 45 maps in the Old Sturbridge Village Research Library. The conserved 18th and 19th-century maps, previously underutilized due to their poor physical condition, will expand the library's offerings of historic resources. The conservation work will be done by the Northeast Document Conservation Center in Andover, Massachusetts. ■■

Calculate the advantages of the CompuMath Citation Index[®]

The CompuMath Citation Index is a unique single-source research tool offering access to the literature of computer science, mathematics and related fields. No other index to computer science and mathematics provides the coverage available from CMCI[®].

You can count on CMCI to offer you these important advantages:

⊕ In-Depth Coverage

CMCI provides full coverage of the world's leading computer science, mathematics and statistical journals—plus selective coverage of over 6,000 journals in the sciences, social sciences, and arts and humanities.

⊕ Unique Multidisciplinary Coverage

CMCI provides full or selective coverage of many of the journals indexed by Science Citation Index[®], Social Sciences Citation Index[®], Arts & Humanities Citation Index[®] and Current Contents[®]. This means that CMCI pulls together applications in medicine, chemistry, business, education and hundreds of other areas—so you don't have to subscribe to thousands of journals to retrieve complete information on the latest applications in any field.

⊕ Up-To-Date Information

CMCI is published in two soft-cover issues and an annual hard-bound cumulation. Each triannual contains current year journal information—making CMCI the most up-to-date computer science and mathematics index available.

⊕ Searching Versatility

CMCI enables you to retrieve information through a variety of access points: author name, title word, cited reference, author affiliation and research front specialty. No matter how specific your search—or how fragmentary the information you have to initiate it—CMCI will provide the information you need.

⊕ Critical Reviews

As of 1985, CMCI indexes computer hardware, software and database critical reviews—so you and your patrons can keep up with new computer technologies being applied and reported today.

⊕ Citation Indexing

CMCI's Citation Index groups together all current items referencing the same earlier work, making the earlier work an indexing term useful in retrieving current papers on the same subject—enabling you to obtain information you might have missed with other search methods.

Together, these advantages make CMCI a valuable addition to your library. To receive a FREE copy of the most recent triannual or to arrange the loan of a three-volume hardbound annual (at no obligation), write us at the address below... or call us toll-free 800-523-1850, extension 1371.

The CompuMath Citation Index. Its advantages really add up.

PUBLICATIONS

• Academic Libraries: The Changing Knowledge Centers of Colleges and Universities, by Barbara B. Moran (97 pages, 1984), has been published as no. 8 of the ASHE-ERIC Higher Education Research Report series. The report describes the current state of American academic libraries, and predicts some of the challenges from both internal and external factors that will shape the academic library of the future. Four areas are singled out as crucial: 1) the need for planning in the information age; 2) the role of faculty and librarians in planning; 3) the need for financial commitment to the library by the institution; and 4) the importance of supporting more cooperative library ventures. Copies of Moran's report may be obtained for $7.50 from the Association for the Study of Higher Education, Department PR-8, One Dupont Circle, Suite 630, Washington, DC 20036.

• Afro-American Studies, by Nathan I. Huggins

(96 pages, July 1985), is a survey, commissioned by the Ford Foundation, of the current status of Afro-American studies programs on American campuses in the light of the early experience and future needs of the field.
