

2022 Conferences Suitable for AHP/ANP Decision-Making Submissions

There are two upcoming conferences with either tracks or sessions that are suitable to submit decision-making papers. These upcoming conferences are:

The 33rd Central European Conference on Information and Intelligent Systems, CECIIS 2022, will take place from September 21st to 23rd in Dubrovnik, Croatia, with a special emphasis on ‘Smart industry in the post Covid-19 society’. This conference is organized by the University of Zagreb’s Faculty of Informatics, and there is a track on strategic planning and decision making which is very suitable for AHP/ANP papers. Dr. Enrique Mu, IJAHP Editor-in-Chief, is honored to be part of the organizing committee. Here is the link to the call for papers for your convenience: <https://ceciis.foi.hr/call-for-papers/conference-papers>

Also, the 21st International Conference on Economy, Finance and Management, in its first Polish-Peruvian edition and entitled “New challenges in economic policy, business, and management,” will take place from October 23rd to 25th in Wieliczka, Poland. This is an opportunity to address new challenges in all these areas using decision-making analytic tools. The conference organizers have said that they are very open to presentations using AHP/ANP for this purpose. Three well-known members of our AHP community will participate in this conference. Professor Dr. hab. Wiktor Adamus of Jagiellonian University in Cracow, Poland is serving as a member of the scientific committee, Dr. Anna Florek-Paszowska, Professor of the Business Department, Centrum, of the Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú is the conference chair, and Dr. Enrique Mu, IJAHP Editor-in-Chief, will organize the AHP/ANP session(s) and speak at the conference about IJAHP publication opportunities. Any questions related to AHP/ANP presentations can be addressed to Dr. Mu via email at editor-in-chief@ijahp.org or to Dr. Florek-Paszowska via email: aflorekpaszowska@pucc.edu.pe.
