

list of referees

Acknowledgement to Referees

Below are the names of colleagues on whose judgement we have relied as referees for papers received over the past two years. All readily agreed to volunteer their time, including many we have called on more than once. Refereeing tends not to receive the acknowledgement it deserves in the academic community. Our referees not only carefully scrutinize the papers they receive, but they also fill out a two-page form and typically they write extensive comments. In many cases they also review revised versions of the papers. The authors, this journal, and the academic community in general all benefit from their expert and considered judgements. We are thus grateful to our referees, and we take this opportunity to thank them publicly.
